

2011 Confinement Site Manure Applicator Certification Locations

This brochure contains a statewide list of workshops for the Confinement Site Manure Applicator Certification Program. State law requires confinement site manure applicators to be certified to handle, haul, transport or apply manure coming from a confinement facility with more than 500 animal units. Confinement site manure applicators are required to attend 2 hours of training each year for their 3-year license. Applicants that miss training during this 3-year cycle will be required to take the remedial exam prior to initiating the next cycle of certification.

Registration is not required for these workshops, but you may wish to contact the extension office to ensure there will be adequate space and training materials available. Call the ISU Extension county office where you plan to attend the workshop to confirm workshop locations and exact times, or to determine meeting options in the event of bad weather.

Iowa State University Extension highly encourages all confinement site manure applicators to attend one of the workshops listed below or to consult their local county extension office's policy for reshowing these programs. There is no charge for attending the workshops or viewing the video on the scheduled reshow date and time. However, beginning March 1, 2011, applicators requesting to view the training materials at non-scheduled times will be charged a $10 fee.

Iowa law does not allow admittance to late arrivals. Be sure to arrive on time. If you are late, you may be asked to leave and attend a different workshop.

Those unable to attend a workshop or view the video training, must contact the local DNR field office to schedule an appointment to take the certification exam.

Additional information regarding the Manure Applicator Certification Program can be found at:

A confinement site manure applicator workshop will be offered at the Iowa Pork Congress on Thursday, Jan. 27, 2011, from 10 a.m. to noon.

This program is sponsored by Iowa State University Extension with funding provided by the Iowa Department of Natural Resources.

Iowa State University Extension 2011 Confinement Site Manure Applicator Workshops

Iowa State University Extension highly encourages all confinement site manure applicators to attend one of the workshops listed below or to consult their local county extension office's policy for reshowing these programs. Confinement sites primarily hauling or applying dry/solid manure are encouraged to attend the dry manure workshops listed on the back page of this brochure. There is no charge for attending the workshops or viewing the video on the scheduled reshow date and time. However, beginning March 1, 2011, applicators requesting to view the training materials at non-scheduled times will be charged a $10 fee.

For exact workshop locations and to confirm exact times or to determine meeting options in the event of bad weather, please call the county extension office where you plan to attend the workshop. Registration is not required for these meetings, but you may wish to contact the extension office to ensure there will be adequate space and training materials available. Please bring your certification card with you or be prepared to share your certification number so we may assist you with your paperwork.
