Commercial Manure Applicator Certification/Recertification JANUARY 7, 2009

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course is for commercial manure service managers and commercial manure service representatives who apply manure for a fee.

This course will qualify as initial certification and as recertification for commercial manure service representatives. Confinement site applicators may also attend, but will be required to attend all three hours of the program versus the required two hours in the confinement site program.

Applicators are highly encouraged to attend this satellite program due to the uncertainty of when videotapes will be available for training in late January and February 2009.

All commercial licenses expire on March 1, annually.

Please register for this program to ensure adequate space and materials are available for all attendees. A registration form is found on the back page.

FEES FOR 2009

Again in 2009, commercial manure services (businesses) must be licensed. Each commercial manure service must name a manager whose certification fees will be covered under the $200 license fee for the business. Commercial manure service representatives (employees) must be associated with a commercial manure service. The representative's certification fee is $75. Additional fees will include an annual $25 educational fee assessed to all employees and the manager. These fees have remained the same for 2009.

INITIAL CERTIFICATION

New employees of a commercial manure service who are not yet certified can apply manure for the first 30 days of employment after they are hired, if they are supervised by a certified commercial manure applicator. After 30 days, the new employees must meet certification requirements. This 30 day exemption is only valid once and does not apply each time the employee is rehired. New commercial manure applicators may become certified at any time during the year. However, all certificates will expire on March 1 annually, no matter when you become initially certified. Anyone who is initially hired after March 1 and was not certified in the previous year will be exempt from paying the certification late fees.

RECERTIFICATION

All currently certified commercial manure service representatives have certificates that will expire on March 1, 2009, and applications for certification in 2009 must be postmarked by March 1, 2009, to avoid paying the late fee of $12.50 (New applicators, who have never been certified, are exempt from the late fee). After March 1, any previously certified commercial manure applicator cannot apply manure until they have attended training or passed the exam and sent in their application for renewal and fee.

In 2009, commercial applicators can initially certify or recertify in one of three ways:

- Attend the satellite downlink workshop scheduled for January 7, 2009 at your local county extension office (see list on right);
- Watch a three-hour training video by scheduling an appointment at your local Iowa State University Extension County Office, or
- Take and pass the certification exam. Exams can be scheduled at regional DNR field offices.

In addition to completing one of the three requirements listed above, commercial applicators must submit the application for certification and the appropriate fee to the IDNR.

SCHEDULE for January 7, 2009

This program is broadcast live and you will have the opportunity to phone, fax, or email questions to the speakers.

8:30 a.m. Registration at local downlink site

You must be registered and in your seat before the program begins. Iowa law does not allow admittance to late arrivals. If you arrive late you will be asked to leave or to stay after the program to view missed materials.

8:55 a.m. Local Welcome

9:00 a.m. Training Program

11:30 a.m. Questions and Answers; Completion of Forms

If you can't attend the program on January 7, you need to schedule time at your local ISU Extension County Office to watch the training videotape. Due to scheduling conflicts, many Extension Offices will no longer accept walk-in appointments to watch these tapes.

MINNESOTA

There will be no joint manure applicator certification training between Iowa and Minnesota in 2009. If you need to be certified in Iowa, you must attend Iowa training, and if you need to be certified in Minnesota, you must attend a workshop offered in Minnesota. Information regarding the Minnesota program and certification requirements can be found at: <http://www.mda.state.mn.us/licensing/pestfert/cawt.htm>

This program is sponsored by Iowa State University Extension in cooperation with the Iowa Department of Natural Resources through cooperative agreement number 09-7112-01.

Five Manure Applicator Workshops for Dry Manure Applicators:

These workshops will focus on dry manure issues and will meet the certification requirements for both commercial and confinement site manure applicators. The workshops are 3 hours in length. Please register for one of these workshops by calling the appropriate site.
