Commercial Manure Applicator Certification/Recertification JANUARY 6, 2004

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course is for commercial manure service managers and commercial manure service representatives who apply manure for a fee.

This course will qualify as initial certification and as recertification for commercial manure service representatives. Confinement site applicators may also attend, but will be required to attend all 3 hours of the program versus the required 2 hours in the confinement site program.

Applicators are highly encouraged to attend this satellite program due to the uncertainty of when videotapes will be available for training in late January and February 2004.

All currently certified commercial manure service representative licenses will expire on December 31, 2003.

Please register for this program to ensure adequate space and materials are available for all attendees.

NEW FOR 2004

Starting in 2004, commercial manure services (businesses) must be licensed under a new state law. Each service must name a manager whose certification fees will be covered under the $200 license fee for the business. Commercial manure service representatives (employees) must be associated with a commercial manure service. The representative's certification fee is $75. Additional fees may include an annual $25 educational fee assessed to all employees and the manager.

INITIAL CERTIFICATION

New employees of a commercial manure service who are not yet certified can apply manure for the first 30 days of employment after they are hired if they are supervised by a certified commercial manure applicator. After 30 days, new employees must be certified. New commercial applicators may become certified at any time during the year.

RECERTIFICATION

Due to changes in the regulations, all currently certified commercial manure service representatives have certificates that will expire on December 31, 2003. Currently certified commercial service representatives have until March 1, 2004, to renew their certificates. After March 1, commercial manure applicators cannot apply manure until they have attended training and sent in their application for renewal and fees. Any currently certified commercial applicator who misses the March 1 deadline will be required to pay a late fee of $12.50 in addition to the certification fees. In the future all certificates will expire on March 1 annually, no matter when you become initially certified or when you renew your license.

Commercial applicators can initially certify or recertify in one of 3 ways:

- Attend the satellite downlink workshop scheduled for January 6, 2004 at your local county extension office;
- Watch a three-hour training video by scheduling an appointment at your local county extension office, (videotapes might be available at the end of January) or
- Take and pass the certification exam. Exams can be scheduled at regional DNR field offices.

In addition to completing one of the three requirements listed above, commercial applicators must submit the application for certification and the appropriate fees to the DNR.
